Balticum Film & TV Festival presents:

- ◆ the best documentaries, short and animation films from Sweden, Finland, St. Petersburg, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Kaliningrad, Poland, Germany and Denmark.
- ◆ the latest trends through works from European Film Schools.
- ◆ a well established network of film directors and producers from the Baltic Sea countries.
- ◆ The Baltic Sea Forum - a unique co-financing and selling point with a pitching of ideas to an international panel of commissioning editors.
- ◆ outstanding master classes with European experts.
- ◆ a selection of the best European feature films.

All together more than 100 films are screened.

The Balticum Competition

The Balticum Competition is open for documentaries, short and animation films produced in the Baltic Sea countries.

To be eligible for competition, film and TV entries must have been produced no more than two years before the festival - and the director must reside in one of the countries bordering the Baltic Sea. All films must be shown with English subtitles or version and they will be judged by an international jury.

The directors of the selected productions will be invited to present their film at the festival.

For further information, please contact the addresses on the back page.

If your film school wants to enter projects

All European film schools can present up to 3 projects at Balticum Film & TV Festival. To participate in the competition the productions must have been completed within the last year. All film genres are welcome.

The deadline for entering is the 1st of March.

If you want to pitch your project

If you have a brilliant idea for a documentary co-production and want to present it to an international panel of commissioning editors merely confirm your interest in receiving detailed application forms.

The deadline for entries to the Baltic Sea Forum is the 1st of March.

Admittance is free for projects from the Baltic States, Poland and Russia, as well as directors participating in the film school competition. For projects from other countries a fee of ECU's 150 must be paid. Information about the procedure can be obtained from Baltic Media Centre.

We look forward to seeing you

Balticum Film & TV Festival is a melting pot of languages, cultures and film genres. It is a unique forum for creative directors from East and West, as well as an outstanding opportunity for intimate debates between the audience and the professionals.

Balticum Film & TV Festival takes place in Gudhjem - a picturesque town on the North coast of Bornholm. But the large variety of festival activities also encompasses the towns of Svaneke and Rønne.

By returning the form to Balticum Film & TV Festival you will be sure to receive the preliminary festival programme and detailed festival information at the end of April.

Balticum Film & TV Festival is organised by Baltic Media Centre in co-operation with the Danish Film Institute.
